

SHARON PRICE
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Sharon Price has 25 years of experience working with children, families and the community to empower people with low income. Sharon graduated from Southern University, with the original plan of teaching history to high school students. It was during her search for high-quality child care for her own children that Sharon's focus switched to young children. To this day, Sharon's dedication comes from her belief that all parents love their children and wants the same quality of care and education for their children that she wanted for hers. As a mother of four and a former Head Start parent—as well as a teacher of children from infancy to school age—Sharon's experience working with and for children is extensive. She believes that her role is really all about serving others, doing what she can to help make a difference in the life of a child or family.
